Tour the world?

So little time to get it all done

The world is an incredible place with so many things to experience but so little time to get it all done. Many of us have a longing to live life to the full, wanting it to be really worthwhile, to make a difference.

Recently Dan Rack went to South Africa and had a great time meeting people, exploring places - definitely go there if you get the chance.

Meeting people and joining in play

Learning how to build

Up-close and personal in Africa

Dan managed to tick off two things on his bucket list - sky-diving from an aeroplane and swimming with sharks.

"But you know", he said "the adventures, the experiences, the highs do fade. Life to the full is not found in adventures and experiences.

Those things don't last. Full life is found in something that lasts forever. Full life is knowing God the creator, the one who gave us all these good things to enjoy. It's what we were made for".

WINTER KIT 2016

Notice the title on these books "1001 AND ONE THINGS YOU MUST TRY ... BEFORE YOU DIE" they tell us of all the amazing things out there that we could do or experience but they also all remind us that one day we will die. But really there is only one thing that is really necessary to do before we die. So whatever you have on your bucket list whether it's to swim the channel or dance with wolves or even learn to bake.

Don't miss that one thing and that's to get right with God.

Jesus said the answer to living a full life revolves around him - that's quite a claim. This is what he said "I have come that they may have life and have it to the full". Jesus is talking about life to the full, to the max, both now and in eternity. He claimed that he was the answer to living a full life forever with God in a perfect new creation.

Let's face it though, the reality is that we live like spoilt children enjoying the things that He has given us but ignoring and rejecting a relationship with him. That's why Jesus came to be born a man so He could restore our relationship with God. And that's what Christmas achieved 🍀
